

NOON EDITION

NOON EDITION

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Daily Newspaper.

N. D. Cochran,
Editor and Publisher.
500 South Peoria St.

398

Tel. Monroe 353.
Automatic 51-422.
By Mail, 50 Cents a Month.

VOL. 3, NO. 89

Chicago, Tuesday, Jan. 13, 1914

ONE CENT

"WOMEN ARE IN A MELTING POT OF THEIR OWN," SAYS N. Y. WOMAN

Miss Lillian D. Wald Says Old Standards Are Melting Away in the Fiery Furnace of Necessity—Says Women Getting Their Say in Government Doings Means a New Sense of Comradeship.

BY NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH

(Copyright, 1913, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

What Hull House is to Chicago the University Settlement is to New York. What Jane Addams is to Hull House, Lillian D. Wald is to the University Settlement.

This is so true that one might call Miss Wald "New York's Jane Addams" or one might even speak of Jane Addams as "Chicago's Lillian Wald." The two women have been fast friends years, and they are as one in their interest and belief in everything which relates to the advancement of women. Miss Wald, like Miss Addams, is a suffragist. The motto of her life and the message which has gone forth for 20 years from the University Settlement is the oneness of the world.

This University Settlement is situated at 265 Henry street, the very core of New York's East Side where the "melting pot of nations" boils hardest and where for 20 years Miss Wald has stirred into it the sympathy and understanding and helpfulness which make life easier for newcomers in "the promised land."

"I believe in everyone working together—all men and women together and especially women-folks together," Miss Wald said to me the other day.

"Women are in a special melting pot of their own just now," I had remarked. "The old standards, the old barriers, are melting away in the fiery